AVEX IN CONTEXT

The Aves Group is completely vertically integrated in the Aviation Industry, serving as both a complete supplier to the industry and as an operator of aircraft. Since 1965, Aves has the unique history of being involved in flight training, aircraft charter, cargo spraying, aerial survey, aircraft sales, film making and aircraft maintenance.

Aves is also the industry's primary supplier of many products and services. These Aves activities service the flight operations, maintenance, aerospace aircraftness, military and flight training institutions in the industry. Aves does this through its Aves Professional Tools, Aves Information Products, Aves Air Technical and Aves Air Transport divisions.

Activities of Aves Air are organized into three main areas of activity, utilizing our 321, 325, 330 and 340 certification:

- Regional and International Charter
- Aircraft Management and Flight Operations
- Aircraft Maintenance

This approach allows Aves to offer its aviation clients a full turnkey solution, ensuring that this highly specialized and controlled environment is correctly subordinated and managed. This ensures the requisite high levels of safety, service, economy and delivery costs.

Aves Air Transport and Aves Air Technical are a Basic Aviation Risk Standards (BARS) certified operations.
